FOR PRESIDENT,
BENJAMIN HARRISON,
Of Indiana.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
LEVI P. MORTON,
Of New York.

Thursday, November 1, 1888

It is with pleasure as well as pride that we place before the readers of the GAZETTE to-day the full Associated Press report and announce that the proprietor has made arrangements by which it will be continued. We might fairly copy after the theatrical notices and say that "the management has at great expense procured, etc., etc." for it is needless to say that it will be a heavy tax, and without an adequate support from the public it will be impossible to provide them with such a luxury. The GAZETTE has never been conducted upon the policy of getting as much and giving as little as was possible to get along with. It will give all it can afford for the support it receives and as fast as the town grows the GAZETTE will grow, giving notice to the world every day in the year that here on the banks of the Truckee there is a live and prosperous town with the energy to publish the news and the ability and liberality to pay for it.

Tariff for Revenue Only.

It is to be understood that the Democratic plan involves absolute free trade for this country at the earliest moment when it shall dare to express its ideas and its hopes in legislation, and that it purposes to move in that direction with steps as long and rapid as it dare take without endangering its position before the people. This, says the St. Paul Press, is a perfectly fair and honest charge. It is one in support of which evidence is so abundant as to need no citation. The burden of proof lies on the other party. "A tariff for revenue only." The phrase is as familiar as any political catchword. It is a Democratic war-cry and shibboleth. It was in the Democratic platform, in exactly those words, in 1876. It has been so found, in platforms of State Conventions, scores and hundreds of times. It is no more to be hidden or charmed away from the Democratic records than that other familiar political axiom, "To the victors belong the spoils." It is only lately, only since the party was struck by panic, only since the disastrous effects upon the public mind of the premature revelation of purpose by Mr. Cleveland became apparent, that the party has tried to palter and double on its record. It is no less than amazing that any Democrat should think of denying the fact that his party stands for free trade. The proof of it is to be found in the files of every Democratic paper within the last year, and in the speeches of almost every Democratic leader able to address the public coherently. Even in the heat of this campaign, and since the need of stimulation became more evident, words can not always be tortured into suppression of meaning; and, side by side with the most vehement rejection of "free trade," will be found an exposition of political doctrine which can be construed as meaning nothing else.

WHILE the GAZETTE is for the entire Republican ticket, from Presidential electors to township officers, it deprecates the means being used by some of the Republican papers to belittle Judge Sewell, a man who is universally regarded as a pure, honorable and upright citizen. That charge that the Judge stated at some time, that "a day is enough for any laboring man," sounds too much like the lying charges being circulated about General Harrison by Brice, Gorman, Barnum & Co., and does an actual injury to Judge Murphy.

THERE is something more than a suspicion that Senator Fair's anticipated arrival on the Comstock next Sunday means more than a desire to examine the lower levels.

THE Enterprise prophesies that Bartine's majority will not be less than eleven hundred.

The Parnell Case—An Angry English Journalist.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—At the sitting of the Parnell Commission to-day, Captain O'Shea was recalled to the witness stand, when he submitted the protest, referred to in his evidence yesterday regarding his exclusion from Parliament by Parnell.

The St. James Gazette, referring to the action of the United States in the case of Sackville, says: "It will be most creditable to English good sense if Secretary Bayard's insolence is treated with contempt. The American Eagle is a screeching; let him screech, we are not prepared to send iron-clads to Long Island because Bayard is outrageously offensive. Respectable Americans, who stand in neither with Cleveland nor Harrison, are nearly as much disgusted with the affair as Englishmen are."

The Pall Mall Gazette expresses the hope that the ire of the Democratic wire-pullers is now assuaged. Cleveland could do no more without throwing Lord Sackville into jail. What a silly business it all is! Though the British consolation is that President Cleveland eclipses Lord Sackville's indiscretion. It is one thing to be tricked into making a slip in private, but quite a different thing to plunge headlong into an abyss of folly and ill temper. We owe Cleveland thanks for showing that the silliest man in Washington was not born in England.

The Star (O'Connor's) paper says that Bayard puts it pretty strong. The Irish vote is so pressing, and the desire to satisfy them is so urgent, that Cleveland cannot wait until Salisbury takes action. The President furnishes fresh evidence of the paramount influence of the Irish vote in Anglo-American politics.

The Murchison Letter.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 1.—Frank P. Burgess, who just arrived from Pomona, states that while there he met a German Count named Menzou and President Finney of a local Republican Club, and that Murchison for several weeks past has been on most intimate terms with them. The two former repeatedly referred to a political thunderclap about to break over the Democratic party, but it was only after the publication of the West letter that they made any admission regarding it. It then transpired that the letter was really written by Murchison at the dictation of Count Menzou, and Finney. Five letters in all were addressed to prominent men in the East, but the British Minister was the only one who replied. Burgess says he cannot understand why the names of the originators of the scheme have not been learned before this.

A Valuable Discovery.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Nov. 1.—James M. Eddy of Horsesnek, R. I., has unearthed 1,500 Spanish doubloons in his back yard, and calculates that there are 100,000 on his farm. His father was Lieutenant Governor of Rhode Island. One of his ancestors, who sailed with Captain Kidd, returned to his Horsesnek farm and sowed it with doubloons. Among his papers was a chart locating his buried wealth. The Lieutenant Governor did nothing with the plan, but James M. Eddy, into whose possession the paper came at the same time as the farm, thought it worth trying.

Lost at Sea.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Captain Kennedy, of the ship Creedomore, from Manila, reports that on September 9th he fell in with the ship Ardenaple, which was in distress, having collided with the ship Earl of Wemyss. The latter sunk, carrying down sixteen passengers. The others were rescued and taken on board the Ardenaple. The latter vessel was found to be unsafe, and the crews of both vessels were taken on board the Creedomore, except Captain Guthrie of the Ardenaple, who decided to stay by his ship. The ship-wrecked crews were landed at Barbadoes.

A Loan Consummated.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The subscription for $4,400,000 of the Union Pacific, Lincoln, Colorado railway first mortgage bonds, guaranteed by the Union Pacific, was closed abruptly yesterday by a dispatch from London which stated that the amount had been taken. The success of the loan is remarkable in view of the efforts made against the legality of the issue.

Takes a Slight Tumble.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—May wheat broke to-day on the heavy selling orders from Chicago, and closed 3 1/2 cents below the opening; the other options closed from 2 to 3 1/2 cents below the opening.

Considered Ended.
LONDON, Nov. 1.—It is stated that in Government circles it is considered that the Sackville incident is ended. Sackville has not yet advised the Government as to the date of his return. It is possible that some time may elapse before a new Minister will be sent to Washington. In American circles here they are anxious for Dufferin to be appointed to the post.

The illness of Cardinal Newman is reported to be very serious. Baron Newborough is dead, 85 years of age.

A Brutal Prize Fight.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Tommy Flanagan of Cincinnati, and Pete McCabe of Albany fought a desperate battle of ten rounds at City Island last night. Flanagan was declared the victor after almost demolishing McCabe. The battle was so wicked toward the finish that many of the spectators turned their heads away to avoid the sickening sight. Just before the seventh round McCabe had the misfortune to take a swallow of ammonia which his trainer gave him by mistake for brandy. It seriously injured his chances.

A Monster Demonstration.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, Nov. 1.—The great Parade of the Ohio League of Republican Clubs has just started, and the magnitude of the demonstration has not been fully realized until now. The city is jammed with people. The marching clubs from every city in Southern Ohio are moving along the line of march. One feature of the parade is the industrial display, a mile and a quarter long. Governor Foraker will speak this afternoon.

A Feather-Weight Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Articles of agreement were signed at the rooms of the California Athletic Club last night for a fight on November 27th, between John H. Havlin of Boston, and Tommy Warren of this city, feather-weights, for a purse of a thousand dollars.

Renewed Action Taken.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Nov. 1.—The Board of Trade to-day took renewed action in reference to urging upon the Government the necessity of a life-saving station at Alaska, and a relief steamer to accompany the Arctic whaling fleet.

A Brutal Match.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 1.—Pat Killen has signed articles for a fight with Dominick McCaffrey, who is on his way to the Pacific Coast. The fight will be fifteen rounds, for $1,000 a side and 75 and 25 per cent of the receipts. Time and place not determined.

Mrs. Hayes in the Chair.

BOSTON, Nov. 1.—The seventh annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary Society opened to-day with a large attendance from all parts of the country. Mrs. Rutherford B. Hayes occupied the chair.

A Fatal Explosion.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—An explosion of hot metal at the Sable Iron Works at noon, killed one man and seriously injured two others.

Yellow Fever Increasing.

DECATUR, Ala., Nov. 1.—There has been a sudden increase of yellow fever in the last 24 hours—eight new cases.

Public Debt Statement.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The decrease of the public debt for October is estimated at $4,600,000.

A Sick King.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 1.—The condition of the King of Netherlands has grown critical.

Hon. George W. Cassidy arrived last evening from the south, and will speak at the Nevada Theater this evening. He never fails to draw a good house in Reno.

W. M. Russell, agent for Dan Morris Sullivan's "Panorama of Ireland," made the GAZETTE office a pleasant call to-day. He thinks his company will be here about the 15th instant.

Rev. C. C. Croghan of Boston, Mass., Secretary of the American Board of Foreign Missions (Congregational), is visiting friends in Reno. He is making an extended tour on the coast in the interest of his society.

A Halloween Party.

At the "School for Girls" last evening Bishop Leonard gave a Halloween party to the teachers and young ladies of that excellent institution, to which a number of young men were invited. After a most cordial greeting by the Bishop to the invited guests, they all repaired to the gymnasium, where various interesting and amusing games were indulged in; then came the ice cream and cake, followed by a few dances, Miss Quaffie and Mr. Barlow furnishing most excellent music. At 10 o'clock all repaired to the assembly room where a hymn was sung and a short prayer offered by the Bishop, whereupon night was said, all having enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

Stanford Heard from.

Under date of Oct. 24th, Senator Stanford telegraphs from New York as follows: The welfare of the country is largely involved in the coming election. The Restriction Act protects our citizens against the competition of the Chinamen in our territory, but of what avail is that if their manufactures can be imported without restraint? I know personally of candidates well. They are men of the best character in private and public life, clear-headed and able in Administrative capacity. If they are elected there will be no disappointment. I hope I may be proud in the wisdom of our State by the majority will record in favor of Harrison and Morton.

Stewart at Eureka.

At Eureka last Tuesday night Senator Stewart received a complete ovation. When going up the canyon from the E. & P. railroad depot, all the whistles on the base range were continuously sounded, the anvils boomed, and both the Eureka and Ruby Hill brass bands escorted the Senator to his hotel. From one who was present the GAZETTE learns that no such a political demonstration was ever before seen in the town of long smokestacks and slag piles. Last night Mr. Stewart spoke at Battle Mountain, will speak at Austin to-night, and in Reno next Saturday evening.

An Editor's Opinion.

A New York dispatch of the 30th says: Editor Charles Emery Smith of the Philadelphia Press was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel to-day. He said: "I think from what I have seen, heard and know that General Harrison will certainly carry New York, Indiana and Connecticut. I have never seen a campaign that promised better for the Republican cause. In Pennsylvania the usual majority of 80,000 will be increased if anything. We will gain two Congressmen, and one will be from W. L. Scott's district. Sam Randall will be re-elected."

Patrick Ford on West's Dismissal.

"What does the dismissal of Sackville West amount to now?" said Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, ten minutes after the first news of the action at Washington reached the Fifth Avenue Hotel. "Nothing," he continued; "the damage has been done to the Democratic party, and it is irretrievable. This is not a personal matter of Lord Sackville. If it had been any other British Minister it would have been the same; for they all think the same about the Cleveland Administration."

Suffaker School Report.

Following is the report of the Suffaker school, Miss Lettie Howard, teacher, for the month ending October 26, 1888: Number enrolled, 48; average daily attendance, 42. Roll of honor—Olive Douglas, Frank Douglas, Lillian Campbell, Lily Douglas, Bettie Wright, Arthur Cooper, Willie Everett, Mamie Crook, Beatie Wright, Hattie Cooper, George Holcomb, Eddie Wright, Rosa Faretto, Angelina Avensino, John Faretto.

A New Style Postal Card.

The postoffice department is soon to have a new style postal card. It is very much like a double card of the present pattern. The back folds are split diagonally and open out like a four-pointed star. The four corners are folded in the center, when the card is ready to be mailed with a piece of gummed paper. The card weighs less than an ounce and will contain no more writing than the present card, the only advantage being greater privacy.

The Contract Let.

The Eads Tehuantepec Ship Railway contract has been given to the Atlantic & Pacific Railway Company, the work to be completed in five years. The Mexican Government has made liberal concessions, and this road is thought likely to be in operation before the De Lesseps or Nicaragua canal can be completed.

A GENEROUS OFFER.

The Bowers Mansion a Good Location for a School.

An opportunity seldom offered in this country is open to some enterprising society or association to found a school. The Bowers Mansion would be given by Mr. Winters, its owner, for either an Indian or a Church school. It is a very fine building with about thirty rooms, and it could easily accommodate a hundred or more. If more room was needed dormitories and classrooms could be built on the grounds. Twelve or thirteen acres go with the building, handsomely laid out and covered with good sized trees. A swimming pond and mineral baths adjoin the mansion. The building is the famous one built at an enormous expense by Sandy Bowers twenty-five years ago. It lies at the foot of a steep mountain on the west side of Washoe Valley, about twenty miles south of Reno. Its location is healthy, the water-rich from mountain springs and the view grand and inspiring. Washoe lake lies in front, with the brown hills around and Mount Davidson beyond. Between the mansion and the lake lies a beautiful meadow several miles across, which is traversed by the V. & T. R. R. Such a place would have many advantages as a site for a school. It would be much better than to be in a town with its temptations. It could be obtained of the farmers around about, and much of the year industrious students could get work at haying and other farm work. It will not be surprising to see a flourishing school there before long.

THE EXCLUSION BILL.

A Chinese Official Talks of Retaliation.

The steamer Arabic, which has arrived at San Francisco from Hongkong and Yokohama, brings the news that an article is published in the Chinese Times to the effect that the action of the Chinese Minister to the United States, in the matter of the treaty which was recently rejected by the Chinese Government, has excited great animosity against him in Kwanton, and endeavors were made by an angry mob to wreck the Minister's house. The Chinese Times also contains a letter signed by a Peking official, written just after the news had reached China that the United States Senate had passed the Chinese Exclusion bill. The following extract is taken from the letter: "If the obnoxious bill should be carried into effect when it will be a question for China to consider whether it is not time for her to cancel her treaties made with that country, to recall her subjects from there, to expel all United States citizens from this country, and to cease all relations and intercourse; diplomatic and commercial, with that country."

A Crazy Man at Elko.

The Free Press says: About 12 o'clock Sunday night a man registered as Ed. Hart, Eureka, engaged a room at the Depot Hotel. About 4 a. m. the hotel clerk heard a disturbance in the hallway above, and Geo. Pullman, going to find the cause of it, met Hart in the hall, half undressed, and acting much like a crazy man. He imagined the officers of the law were after him, and wanted a pistol to protect himself. Hart's mutterings seemed to show that he was implicated in some crime in Austin, Texas. Holbrook succeeded in managing him peacefully, and calling man named Taber and McKee. Holbrook introduced Hart as Senator Foley, whom Hart persisted in wanting to see, and by these means the officers got Hart to jail. He is still in an excited frame of mind, ranting about vigilantes, etc.

Noah's Ark Timber.

Within a radius of sixty miles of Nashville, Tenn., there is said to be found a tree that is said to be the shittim wood of ark fame. Celebrated botanists from all over the country have examined the trees and agree that they grow nowhere else on the globe. They have decided that it is the shittim wood of which Noah's ark was constructed, and mention of which is made several times in the Bible. The tree is medium sized, with a very dark smooth bark, and the wood is of a bright gold color. In early spring the trees are laden with long, white blossoms, closely resembling gold ostrich-plumes. There seems to be no doubt about the identity of the trees, and it is remarkable that they are found only in this small area and so few at that.

Cleveland and Hill.

The Buffalo Express says: Does any one dream that Cleveland will allow Hill to be re-elected and himself defeated? Men who know Grover Cleveland understand the stolid hatred he bears the Albany wire-puller, and realize that Hill's election would be the one thing Cleveland would give his all to prevent. There are old grievances between the two men dating back to their first election as Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, and these wounds will never heal. They are deadly enemies beneath the surface and it is necessary to do in order to insure the effectual knifing of the one to prove to the other that he is defeated.

The Solid South May Be Broken.

The Chicago Tribune says: While it would not be wise for Republicans to settle down in the belief that the solid South will be broken in November by the certain loss of West Virginia to the Democrats, the political drift in that State during the last eight years at least warrants them in the hope that such may be the case, and it warrants the National Committee also in making a red-hot canvass from now until the election.

A South American R. R. Scheme.

Several South Americans just now are in London pushing an imposing scheme for railway extension in Brazil. It is proposed to construct a line from Pernambuco across Brazil and Paraguay and the Entre Rios region to the Argentine town of Santa Fe, there to connect with a transandine railway for Valparaiso. Three hundred and fifty million milreis are wanted for the job.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Mr. Cassidy at the Nevada Theater to-night.

The Methodist Church at Winnemucca is to have a bell.

L. D. Folsom telegraphs from Sacramento that he got a settlement out of Rour, the absconding sheepman.

General Irish this morning received official information of his confirmation as United States Surveyor General of this State.

During the past month A. McIntosh shipped 425 tons of hay from Reno to points along the Central Pacific Railroad.

The Democrats are becoming somewhat exercised about Old and West Virginia, their party papers in the former State acknowledging that Cleveland has no sure thing there.

In to-day's issue will be found the advertisement of L. F. Folsom, the former State acknowledging that Cleveland has no sure thing there.

From the appearance of the town this morning Halloween was pretty generally observed, the public school building seeming to have received a little more than its usual share of attention.

THEN AND NOW.

Cost of Raising Wheat a Century Ago.

Says a writer in the New York Commercial Advertiser: Two dollars is a round price for wheat—seven September wheat—yet less than a hundred years ago it could not have been grown for that money. For then America had not a binder, a reaper, nor even a five-fingered cradle; the reaper-hook was the harvest implement. The harvester gathered his left hand full of wheat and cut through it with a smart blow of the sickle, dropping the swath orderly behind him. After him came a boy who gathered the handfuls into bundles, and after him a smaller boy—the band-dropper—who left with each armful a band which had been made by the men too old for severe labor by knotting together the ends of two strands of about a dozen wheat stalks each. Then came binders and shockers, and after the grain was cut it was either stacked or hauled to the barn to await a convenient season for thrashing. This the best farmers accomplished with a thrashing machine, but the bulk of them trod out their crops by riding horses round and round over the heads spread in a ring upon beaten earth. Then it was winnowed dropping from a height upon a windy day, then carefully washed, dried in the sun, picked over by hand, and sent to mill to make flour that was only eaten upon high days and holidays. No wonder the old-time dorkies styled it "Billy-seldom" in opposition to "Johnny-constant," the everyday corn bread, or that among people of pettishness and nervousness it was called "English dough" in contradistinction to the "Indian corn" that needs so much less preparation.

Stock Shipments.

Fifteen cars of cattle belonging to Welby & Judd and the same number belonging to Horn & Chapman, were reshipped from here to-day to the San Francisco market.

Fine Cabbage.

A load of the largest and finest cabbage this reporter ever saw was brought to Reno to-day by an Italian rancher whose name was not learned.

A Return to Duty.

This is always desirable, and the speedier it takes place the better. Doubtless welcome is it in the case of those usually industrious little organs, the kidneys, which, when they go on a strike—so to speak—and drop work, seriously imperil health in more than one way. First and foremost, their inaction begets their disease, which is hydra-headed, including such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes. Next, when inactive they fail to assist in removing from the blood impurities that beget rheumatism, gout and dropsy. Third, their inaction weakens the bladder. All this is preventable and remediable by the pleasant promoter of organic action, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, at once a tonic and a regulator. This gently but effectively impels the kidneys to return to duty, and strengthens them and the bladder. Upon the bowels, stomach and liver it likewise exerts a regulating and invigorating influence, and it strengthens the system, and cures and remedies malaria and rheumatism.

Discoveries More Valuable than Gold.

Are Santa Abie, the California discovery for consumption and diseases of the throat, chest and lungs, and California Cat-R-Cure, the only guaranteed cure for catarrh, cold in the head and kindred complaints. They are sold at $1 per package, or three for $2.50, and are recommended and used by the leading physicians of the Pacific Coast. Not secret compounds. Guaranteed by Osburn & Shumaker.

Chilblains, unpleasant odors from the feet and other parts of the body, nasal catarrh, ringworm, poison oak, sty on the eye, granulated eye lid, eruptive diseases of the skin, all disappear after using Dillard's Specific. Warranted to effect a radical cure in every instance. Sold by Wm. Finner.

Grecian Festivities.

ATHENS, Nov. 1.—The festivities yesterday in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of King George's accession to the throne were on a grand scale. The King headed the grand procession to the cathedral, where a Te Deum was sung, and returning to the palace, he addressed the people. Fearn, United States Minister, presented a telegram of congratulation from President Cleveland.

Was by Tyrone.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—At the Lincoln Autumn meeting, the great Tom stakes were won by Tyrone.

Bar silver, 94.

Michael Herbert, Lord Sackville's Second Secretary, is now the Acting British Minister.

CHINESE BEGGARS.

The Business Men Dare Not Refuse Them.

A writer in a Shanghai journal, referring to the beggars of China, says that large donations are given to them by the people, but these are in the nature of an insurance. In the cities the beggars are organized into very powerful guilds, more powerful by far than any organization with which they can contend, for the beggars have nothing to lose and nothing to fear, in which respects they stand alone. The shopkeeper who should refuse a donation to a stalwart beggar, after the latter has waited for a reasonable time and has besought with what lawyers call "due diligence," would be liable to invasion from a horde of famished wretches, who would render the existence of even a stolid Chinese a burden, and who would utterly prevent the transaction of any business until their continually rising demands should be met. Both the shopkeepers and the beggars understand this perfectly well, and it is for this reason that the gifts flow in a steady, if tiny, rill.

Who Knows?

Under the above heading the Enterprise says: Ex-Senator Fair will arrive in Virginia next Saturday and remain until after the election. It is a mooted question among the patriots whether his visit has any political significance. Those who think it has are wearing wide faces, those in doubt hold their countenances the average breadth, while those who think he is only bent on business have a long and serious expression between their eyes and chins. The ex-Senator himself doubtless knows why he is coming, but it is not currently believed that any one else is able to furnish the public with reliable information.

Prohibition Meeting.

The Nevada Theater was fairly well filled last evening to listen to the Prohibition speeches of Revs. Vandever and Magill. The first-named gentleman, who made the speech of the evening, is a man of marked ability, and he handled his subject in a manner that seemed to greatly interest and please his audience, a large majority of whom were ladies.

Reducing the Surplus.

The disposition of the surplus in the United States Treasury engages the attention of our statesmen, but a more vital question has our attention, and that is the reduction of our surplus consumptives. Since the discovery and introduction of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumptives there has been a marked decrease in the mortality from this dread disease, and it is possible to still further reduce the number of consumptives. How? By keeping constantly at hand a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and using according to directions, upon the appearance of the first symptoms, such as a cough, a cold, a sore throat, a chest or side pain. Taken thus early a cure is guaranteed. Trial bottles free at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

"Dickens Had One Trick."

Remark the professor, in a discussion of favorite authors, "which always struck me as an oddity. I mean his habit of pinning some distinctive word or phrase on a character, which must be uttered on all occasions. Now people in real life don't iterate like parrots. At least, I know of only one person who is liable to such criticism—Young Bowden, my neighbor. The picture of health isn't he? Ruddy cheeks, sparkling eyes, ringing voice. Well, his pet phrase, which I've heard him repeat to scores of people suffering from coughs and weak lungs, is, 'Take Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.' No wonder, either, for it saved him from a consumptive's grave."

Our Candidate for President.

He will be nominated by the Convention and will be elected by the people, because he will come the nearest to filling their ideal of a Chief Magistrate. Electric Bitters has been given the highest praise, because no other medicine has so well filled the ideal of a perfect tonic and alternative. The people have endorsed Electric Bitters, and rely upon this great remedy in all troubles of the liver, stomach and kidneys. For all malarial fevers and diseases caused by malarial poisons, Electric Bitters cannot be too highly recommended. Also, cures headache and constipation. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Price, 50 cents and $1, at Hodgkinson & Co.'s drug store.

Statistics show that twenty per cent. of the people of the United States are suffering from disease of the kidney and urinary organs. A simple plan for the cure, if neglected, often runs into that terrible scourge, Bright's disease, which carries off so many of our prominent men. If you are afflicted with any urinary or kidney trouble, no matter how slight, do not put it off until too late, but procure a package of Oregon Kidney Tea and take according to directions. It will cure you. Sold by Wm. Finner.

A fine constitution may be ruined by simple neglect. Many bodily ills result from habitual constipation. There is no medicine equal to Ayer's Pills for restoring the system to natural and healthy action.

FORREST GROVE, Oregon, March 8.—I have been troubled many years with weakness of the kidneys and have tried many different remedies, sought aid from different physicians and even changed climates to obtain relief, but have met with indifferent success. Hearing through a friend of the value of the Oregon Kidney Tea, I obtained a box of it and have derived a more benefit from it than from anything else I have yet found. Sold by Wm. Finner. J. T. HUFF.

Chronic catarrh usually indicates a scrofulous condition of the system, and should be treated, like chronic skin and eruptions, through the blood. This disease has been cured in hundreds of cases by the use of Ayer's Sarsapilla. Price $1. Six bottles, $5.

A Manufacturer Tells of the Trade and its Peculiarities.

The designing of silks and satins for neckties is a profession in itself. There are special grades and designs of the necktie trade," said a manufacturer to a New York Mail reporter. "These materials are made from patterns designed by men who do nothing but study new things in this line. There are from fifty to seventy-five factories in the country and ten or twelve first-class ones. The latter usually secure exclusive rights to use certain styles of goods offered to the American market, or a large portion of it. But the success of making up such goods is just like a lottery. Perhaps one season I hit upon a design that will become so popular that all the other makers are forced to adopt it, but the next season someone else in Boston or Philadelphia will make a hit, and I am forced to copy that. There's never any telling how a necktie is going to take until it is fairly on the market. Then it depends for success on who adopts it first. If it happens to be a swell, that particular kind of necktie will sell well."

"Are the styles of making up neckties originated abroad?"

"Not now. They were until about three years ago, but now our styles are superior to the European, and they are coming over here for patterns. However, there is a tendency toward English patterns for this season."

"There are more than 1,200 girls employed in this city alone. They work by the piece and make money more or less according to their expertise. A good finisher can make $3 or $4 a week. She takes a necktie after it is put together and finishes each end perfectly so that it is ready to box. These different colors of the same design and same style are twisted together to give the dealer an assortment in the one make. The finisher must see that all of this kind are exactly alike in point of finish and making up. We have one girl who does nothing but turn bands of neckties, and she makes $15 a week. She turns twenty-five or thirty dozen bands a day."

Wonderful Feats with a Saw.

I have often read of the wonderful feats performed by skilled workmen with tools, such as engraving the Lord's prayer on the back of a silver 3 cent piece or making a steam engine that would stand on a silver quarter, but I saw some wonders performed the other night that surpassed them all. All the time the articles manufactured heretofore have been made with small tools, and in some cases with the aid of a microscope, but there is a man in the Sea Beach Palace exposition on Coney Island, who works out the most delicate articles with a hand saw. He is a Russian, and is working at the rate of over a mile a minute. Upon this immense machine the skilled operator in my presence sawed out four chairs, all complete with legs and backs, but so small that the four were placed on the end of a lead pencil at one time. Then a dozen knives and forks of the most diminutive size were made and placed around the lead pencil. So small were they that although the entire dozen were placed round the lead pencil, not one of them touched the other. Then the operator touched the finger nail on the huge saw as cleverly and easily as one could do it with a penknife. Wetting his thumb, he pressed the ball of it into some sawdust, and then sawed the sawdust off the thumb without scratching the skin, yet a single nervous twitch of the arm would have cost him a hand. All sorts of curious puzzles are turned out with astonishing rapidity from all sorts of misshapen blocks of wood. Even articles of clothing, as thin and flexible as cloth, are worked out by this magician from little pieces of wood with his big saw. The car he works in was sawed out of over 1,000 pieces of wood, no two of which are the same size or shape. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Russian Tea Drinking.

The Russians are a nation of tea-drinkers; coffee is rare; tea is universal, and universally good. The best tea I ever drank was in Russia; they drink it at all hours, and without regard to quantity—sometimes ten cups at a sitting, and yet, apparently, with impunity. Brass urns, in which tea-water is boiled by means of a charcoal fire, are found over all the Empire. They are called samovars, and I found it important to include in my Russian vocabulary the word "samovar." Their method of making and drinking tea had been noticed by all travelers in their country. They claim that water at the boiling point is destructive to the good qualities of tea, so they draw their tea with water just below that point. They use thin glass tumblers, with ornate saucers; sometimes the women use cups, but the men never; the tea is poured into the saucers, which are held on the upturned ends of the thumb and fingers of the right hand; milk and cream are rarely used; a block of cut sugar is held in the left hand, from which they nibble, as they slowly sip their delicious, wine-colored tea.

The Terrier and the Coyote.

We have a dog—a yellow dog—and the way we have bragged on that dog and his fighting qualities, will, we fear, prove a bar to our passage through the pearly gates. We have told his pedigree and offered to back him against any other pup in the valley in the matter of endurance. He stayed out many a battle; but, alas, our pride in that direction has vanished. While riding forth in the sage-brush country the other day we noticed a small coyote dogging our tracks; we proceeded to dog him, when something peculiar happened. The yellow terrier, which was supposed to pivot around a large, low bush with the coyote in hard pursuit. Well, now, you see, a coyote can beat a cypress in speed, so it only took about two rounds before he gained on the dog enough to take a piece of meat out of his hind leg. To say that the terrier was astonished is to put it lightly. He fell over himself several times, hauled down the flag, and sought the shelter of the horse. That blamed coyote followed us for two miles, intent on a fight, but he did not get it. He will be received at our office for the terrier. —See ad at bottom of page for the terrier.

Poisoning Her Eyebrows.

More than one woman well known in society, persists in poisoning her eyebrows with India ink. The fashion might be condoned if it were an improvement, but not one woman in ten can practice it without making herself ridiculous. The other day I met at a party a lady who is the mother of grown children. She had evidently made up in a hurry or in a room insufficiently lighted, for one eyebrow was half an inch higher, more arched and longer than the other. It gave the otherwise dignified female the appearance of a diabolical wink with one eye, which, to say the least, was grotesque.

Manner in Which Tombs Are Built and Interments Made.

A striking feature about Napha-Klang is the number of tombs surrounding it. These are built in the sides of the hills, and are of a horseshoe shape. They are in the form of vaults, and are constructed of solid masonry. In these vaults the dead are placed and left for seven years, after which the remains are collected and interred in urns. Those who cannot afford to build a tomb for the use of their own relatives combine with others, so as to have a common place of sepulture of respectable appearance. The finest, however, are interred in holes cut in the sea cliffs. After burial supplies of food and rice spirit are placed in the tomb for the use of the deceased, which the relatives come and consume after a decent interval. The combings of the hair are collected by the priests, and by them burnt on certain occasions as offerings for some purpose or other; but the meaning of the rite has not yet been disclosed.

A Sea Flower.

One of the most exquisite wonders of the sea is called the opellet, about the size of the German aster, and looking, indeed, very much like one. Imagine a very large double aster, with a great many long petals, of a light green color, glossy as satin, and each tipped with the color of a bluish rose. These lovely petals do not lie in their places quietly, however, but wave about in the water, while the white opellet clings to a rock. You have no idea how pretty and innocent it looks on that it would feast upon anything grosser than dew and sunbeams? Let us watch this satanic plant—for it is a devil of a flower—eat up the pretty arms, which those pretty, graceful arms. You will see in a moment—for here comes a foolish little fish—do you see that little fish wriggling and sinking?—ah, it has disappeared! Yes, it was struck dead by the poison of these pretty arms, which was as fatal as the rattlesnake's bite, and in an instant a tremendous mouth opened and the victim was swallowed whole by the innocent-looking opellet—a scary thing for a flower to do, surely.

Fame.

Hawthorne used to write up and down his later years, he kept a very plenty of people who knew him well as the surveyor of the port of Salem, but who never knew that he had written anything, and had never heard of the "Scarlet Letter." In Samuel Longfellow's memoir of his brother there is an entry from the poet's diary in which he tells how a "society woman," at whose table he was dining one day, asked him, "Oh, Mr. Longfellow, have you ever published a book?" This was after two-thirds of his life work was done. The other day, a gentleman came into a barber's shop just as Dr. Holmes was going out, and occupied the chair that the autocrat had vacated. "Do you know who that was that just went out?" said the barber. The visitor was curious to see what account Dr. Holmes the barber would give of his head. "Why," said the barber, "that's old Dr. Holmes." "And who, pray, is Dr. Holmes?" "Oh, he's been a doctor here a great many years. I believe he ain't practicin' any more, but he's thought a great deal of."

A Frenchman's Museum of Death.

Among the numerous collectors of curiosities of every kind who abound in Paris there is one wealthy virtuoso who amuses himself by collecting death's heads on skeletons fantastically carved or modeled in marble, earthenware, wood or precious stones. These he has gathered together in a kind of museum of death, which at first sight seems hideous, "macabre," but on closer inspection, proves highly instructive. Some of the heads have been detached from those old mediæval rosary beads, which were usually ornamented on one side with the profile of a king or saint and on the other with the grinning face of a skeleton. One of the most hideous, yet at the same time most artistically executed, of the figures is that of a skeleton engaged in taking from off his bones the "conqueror worms" which have been claiming him as their own. The collector has given a lugubrious reality to the objects in his museum by placing here and there among them the skulls of dead women.

Dogs with Cat-like Habits.

Mr. Romanes, in his book on "Mental Evolution in Animals," gives some curious illustrations of modified instincts due to early association or training. A terrier pup, brought up with a kitten, began to bound like a cat, played with mice by letting them run for a distance and pouncing on them, licked his paw and rubbed them over his ears. Miss Mitford, in her Letters, records similar habits in a King Charles terrier, which belonged to no less a personage than the venerable Dr. Ross, President of Magdalen College, Oxford. This dog had been suckled and reared by a cat, having lost its own mother. He always showed the proverbial cat-like dread of wet feet, and never went out in rain; licked his paws several times in the day for the purpose of washing his face, sitting the while upon his tail in the true catish position; watched a mouse-hole for hours together; and had, in short, all the ways, manners, and dispositions of his feline foster-mother.

What Was the Holy Alliance?

The holy alliance was entered into in Paris, September, 1815, by the emperors of Russia and Austria and the king of Prussia. It was an attempt to found a principle of government, which it was expected would secure justice and prosperity and peace to Europe. It was considered that the French revolution and the supremacy of Napoleon I. was the work of men. The human laws by which the state was then governed were to be purified and invigorated by a divine power.

Important New York Society Gospel.

Those who carry an empty tomato can about the streets of a big city, gathering about them the scraps from the dinner or sidewalk, were said, once upon a time, to be "working the growler." But this phrase went out of general use some time ago in New York and "carrying the banner" was substituted for it. Now this phrase has been laid aside and it is "chasing the duck" that the experts in the slang now use.

Greatest Depth of the Ocean.

The greatest depth of the ocean, ascertained by sounding is 31 miles (25,720 ft., or 4,620 fathoms), not quite equal to the height of the highest known mountain Mount Everest, which measures 29,002 feet or 51 miles high. The average depth below 60 degrees north and 60 degrees south, is nearly 3 miles.

THE PLATFORM.

The Republicans of Washoe, proud of the past and hopeful for the future, heartily endorse the platform and nominees of the National Republican Convention, as adopted at Chicago, and the Republican State Convention at Winnemucca, and pledge a rousing majority for Harrison and Morton and Protection, and Murphy and Barthe and the ticket nominated by this Convention. We demand legislation for the National Government in regard to irrigation, and for the improvement of our natural waterways, as well as for the storage of water, whereby the natural advantages of this section can be improved to their fullest capacity. We demand the most rigid economy in State and County affairs, and the establishment of the State's expenses upon such a basis as will secure good government at the lowest rate of taxation. We maintain that a rate of seventy-five cents should be and is sufficient to provide revenue for the State Government. In view of the rejection of the new Chinese treaty by the Mongolian Government we demand the total and absolute exclusion of all Chinese, and they must go.
